Organisers: D. Mendeleyev Russian Chemical Society, the Russian Chemical Union, D. Mendeleyev University of Chemical Technology of Russia.

We have the pleasure of inviting you to submit results of your research to the 8th COMPETITION of YOUNG SCIENTISTS dedicated to the 180th anniversary of Dmitry Mendeleyev, the outstanding Russian chemist. The Competition will be held within the framework of the International Exhibition of the Chemical Industry and Science «Chemistry+» and of the International Chemical Assembly on 23rd October 2014 in the “Expocentre” (Moscow).

For the last 7 years the Competition of Young Scientists has considerably expanded the range of its participants. Young scientists from Russia, Belarus, Ukraine represented by such leading universities, as the D. Mendeleyev University of Chemical Technology of Russia, Moscow State University named after M. V. Lomonosov (Faculty of Chemistry), Moscow State University of Fine Chemical Technology named M. V. Lomonosov, Belarusian State University, Belarusian State Technological University, Volgograd State Technical University, St. Petersburg State Technological Institute (Technical University), Tomsk State University, Tomsk Polytechnic University, Kiev Polytechnic Institute took part in the Competition

We welcome young researchers (people under 30 years old, not PhD holders) to submit their research projects implemented in such fields as chemistry, petrochemistry, chemical engineering, and biotechnology.

Projects selected by the Expert Board during the preliminary examination, will be presented at the special session. All projects will be considered and judged under the following criteria: novelty of the topic, originality of the research; practical interest for industry, quality of written and oral presentations, as well as results of academic discussion.

Authors who cannot personally present their projects, will be provided with the opportunity to make an online presentation (upon request).

The Competition will be held on the 23rd of October at 10.00 in Conference Hall of «Expocentre». To take part in the Competition, young scientists should submit their applications and abstracts to the Organising Committee by the 20th of September 2014 (Annex 1). Participation is free of charge.

Winners will be awarded by special Diplomas and prizes.
